Office and Laboratory, No. 10, Alder street, Four Doors from Front, Portland, Oge.

HAVING secured the services of DR. H. MACK, formerly of New York city and late of St. Louis, who is an experienced and skilful Dentist, I am now prepared to manufacture and insert Artificial Teeth by the following methods namely: Gold, Silver, Rubber, Amber, Porcelain, Hard, Gum Enamel, Rubber Attachment, Chloride, Continuous Gum, Mica and Enameled Plate Work. Some kinds of this work is recommended above all others and needs but an inspection to prove its superiority for cleanliness, durability and life like appearance to any artificial teeth in use.

Filling and cleaning teeth and all operations in Dental Surgery either mechanical or curative performed in the most thorough and highly finished manner. None but the most permanent and finished operations performed and no undue instruments to patients by low priced or roughly finished operations. I use no lead in filling teeth, and seek in price to make no competition with cheap Dentists and desire the patronage of such persons only as wish their operations performed in the most perfect and skilful manner.

Operations that fail to give satisfaction need not be taken or paid for. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. Indigent persons who are unable to pay full professional charges will call before and after office hours. nov1dtf

Letter from Olympia

OLYMPIA D. 24 1862

Editor [illegible]

[illegible] engaged in their [illegible] and it impossible [illegible] the moments [illegible] Legislature [illegible] in [illegible] and [illegible] city. [illegible] at home during the [illegible] duties [illegible] that I may keep you more regularly informed of [illegible] as to the affairs [illegible] interest.

[illegible] Hall [illegible] jointly [illegible] for the holidays [illegible] of January. This will give [illegible] members [illegible] to spend a few days [illegible] at their homes [illegible] of great benefit to some, if not many. It will certainly afford a season of repose, especially to those [illegible] have been so fearfully exercised in the reconstruction of positions in the organization of the two Houses, provided they do not suffer them [illegible] to participate too freely in the extravagances of the season.

In matters of legislation the two bodies had just fairly begun to move when the near approach of the festive season caused an adjournment. Several measures of importance have been introduced and are now in the hands of appropriate committees and will doubtless come on for action at an early day. Among the more important are the Acts for a general incorporation law and giving increased jurisdiction to Judges of Probate. A resolution has passed both Houses appointing a joint committee to codify the laws. This is a matter of much interest to all and it is highly gratifying to know that decisive action is taken in regard to it so early in the session, and we have every reason to believe judging from the character of the gentlemen composing the committee, the object will be fully attained before the final adjournment.

Several important memorials have passed thus early in the session with a view of having them reach Washington and claim the attention of Congress before Congress adjourns. Two or three bills have also passed both Houses, none of which however are of special interest to the public but rather of public and private interest to the special. This, unfortunately for the people at large, has been a prevailing feature in the history of our law-making power for years past. We hope it will not be so prominent a feature this term, but that, as a general rule, good and wholesome laws will be enacted. There are perhaps many local and special laws which, when properly guarded in their provisions, are of unquestionable merit not merely as being beneficial to the parties immediately interested but as conducive, in a measure, to the public weal. But the extent to which this special legislation has hitherto crept into, crippled and defeated measures for the general welfare of the people, has been enormous. It has been the most prominent and overpowering element in our legislation, and honest every act of public interest [illegible] greater or less [illegible] must [illegible] to its dictum or suffer an inglorious death.

An unfortunate affray occurred in our streets on Saturday last an account of which you doubtless will have noticed ere this, in our city papers. Although it was supposed at first that the wound received by Mr. Howe would prove fatal within a few hours from the time he was shot hopes are now entertained of his recovery.

A grand ball is to take place to night at the Gallaher Hall. As the evening approaches we can hear in all directions the squealing of pigs, the squawking of hens, the merry laugh of the youngsters in their frolicksome sports—all indicating the near approach of that joyous time, which we wish you, Mr Editor, a merry Christmas.

ORPHEUS

FROM THE SOUTH ON RICHMOND.—A correspondent writes to the National Intelligencer of November 24th under date of November 20th, from Suffolk, Virginia, gives the latest intelligence from that region. Although we have news more than a month later, by telegraph from other quarters, this point to the South of Richmond appears to be entirely [illegible]. Prefacing that Gen. Peck is commanding 33 000 men there we copy:

Brig. Gen. Wessel returned yesterday from making a strong reconnoissance along the Blackwater in the county of the disturbed town of Franklin. Some lively artillery practice occurred on both sides, but so far as I can learn with but little damage to our side—nothing hurt but three or four horses. The enemy have some heavy guns and a fine rocket battery at Ourtyport.

The rebel assertion has been a success in disbelieving as we have before supposed that the enemy intended to cross the crossing of Blackwater with us wherever we [illegible] we [illegible] to [illegible] their most defensible position this side of Petersburg, next that they are evidently massing troops at points where they suppose we will attempt crossing, and fortifying many points.

Though I am not free in my position—am not much in our great army—to think or suggest, yet I cannot help saying that with [illegible] I regret to hear us and [illegible] enough available [illegible] Doctor's and hold up smooth on that Side the stream it seems as if we could and should [illegible] while the weather is such that we can move with ease and celerity. It is not my province to write our strategic base. It is said however that not an officer of command, from the Mayflower commanding down, will feel confident of power to take Petersburg in spite of opposition within a week if ordered from the Lower at Washington. If General Burnside [illegible] this all hopes and drives rapidly on towards Richmond in the direction he is pursuing, and Gen. Foster presses up from North Carolina while we, with Dix's reinforcements, [illegible] Weldon Railroad, [illegible] Petersburg railroad line now in our rear, [illegible] will allow its [illegible] to [illegible] and evidently in full force at present to be all for the enemy [illegible] to [illegible] transportation steps and supplies toward the [illegible] lower.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

MONDAY MORNING, DEC 29, 1862

THE NEWS.—We devote almost our entire space, to day, to the Eastern news. We give the full account of the battle of the 13th of December, at Fredericksburg, which was transmitted solely to the Sacramento Union by telegraph the varied occurrences in all parts of the old States, with our usual news by telegraph to Yreka. The news will be found of great interest.

MCCLELLAN FOR U. S. SENATOR.—The Patterson Register, proposes to elect Gen. McClellan to the United States Senate from New Jersey, in the place of J. R. Thompson. If Gen. McClellan's friends have his honor and true interests at heart they will not offer his name for any political position, nor will they suffer parasites to make merchandise of his reputation, by connecting him with any legislative office. His talents are purely administrative, and if he ever holds civil office, it should be in some executive position. We earnestly hope that there is a place of honor for him, and that he may be of service to his country in some important capacity. Let him take the example of Marshal Victor to heart; although he need not follow it. Victor Berrin was the son of a cooper and entered the armies of France as a private. His heroic courage and self sacrificing patriotism, were made useful by being joined to military abilities second only to Bonaparte's. He was not a soldier of the schools, it is true, but not even Davoust or Massena were entrusted with more important commands. His success was signal on every occasion. From the condition of ignorance and penury, he made himself one of the most accomplished military men of the Grand Army. Often thrown upon his own resources, his invention was equal to every occasion. When Napoleon made the Russian campaign, Victor was left behind with an important command. When the French were driven back by the Russians, Victor, accompanied by Oudinot, advanced to meet Bonaparte with 60,000 fresh men, and was the real savior of the remnant of the French army. He was an active participant in the battle at the crossing of the Beresina, which in point of aggravated horrors has no parallel in modern warfare, and thus saved the army from instant annihilation. But Bonaparte was dissatisfied with him, and took away his command. Victor did not report for further service. A few days afterwards, Napoleon was reviewing the miserable remnant of the Imperial Guard. A soldier attracted his attention—he addressed him thus: "Victor, is this you?" "Yes, my Emperor, you took away my command, without hearing me,"—then continuing with great vehemence, "Victor is a soldier. Victor loves his country, he can shoulder a musket and fight in the ranks." Napoleon had given Victor's corps to Girard, but he found him a post of honor—Victor did not disgrace it.

ROADS TO AUBURN.—The old road from Dalles to Powder river valley, commonly known as the Emigrant Road, is at present most in use by teamsters bound to Auburn. Its popularity is solely on account of its being well beaten, as it is farther than by other routes known to be practicable. It has also very heavy grades, which will need much modification to keep it the principal thoroughfare to Auburn. The Government road, branching to the South at the Cold Spring and coming in again on Grand Ronde river at the crossing on the old trail, is only passable during three months in summer when the river is low. Another road is being opened to Powder river, which branches from the Government road at Douglas' Rancho, on the head-waters of Grande Ronde. This is the junction of the Granite creek, Powder river and Grand Ronde roads, but the new road from here is only passable for packs. It is said that it will prove the best and most direct road to Auburn. Another road from the Grand Ronde and Umatilla landing, is in course of construction. It will follow the old Umatilla Trail over the Blue Mountains. Two other roads are being opened from Walla Walla to Auburn, both passing Mullan's Mill, one running to the entrance of Indian Valley, and passing up the east side of Grand Ronde Valley and out at Cave creek. The other leaving at the mill bears to the right until it intersects the Umatilla trail and then following down this trail through a depression in the mountain, entering the Grand Ronde Valley in the Northwest corner, passing to the center portion of the valley, and following a ridge to the crossing of the old trail.

JUSTICE IS CERTAIN.—A late number of the Washington Star says that when Gen. Irwin McDowell is brought before the Military Commission, it will be shown that he has done his duty on all occasions. Not only will he be acquitted, but he will not even have an accuser. Gen. McDowell commenced his career under the brightest auspices, his personal qualities placed him far above many who are now high in public favor. His services in Mexico were recognized as of great importance, and it is to be hoped that he will make his innocence clear.

Letter from Auburn

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

AUBURN, Dec. 14, 1862.

Christmas is coming and the Americans appreciating the fact that Christmas comes but once a year are becoming very liberal and remarkably generous indeed. There has been frequent processions about the streets that they are all to be enlisted by the Christmas party that is to be. Hon. Jesse Applegate swept through the mountains of his vocabulary and fairly [illegible] whistled in the piping wilds he struggled to find words to express his contempt for the rebels and as we waded through the snow drifts to hear him lecture by day and their piece of earth and music by night. Since my last we have had snow not enough to impede travel much, but enough to make us realize that December is a Winter month and the last rain that fell has glazed our streets with ice and makes it rather dangerous to travel down them.

SPECULATION.

There is nothing new from the Bar. Everything from there which is going is taken off every day minus sand pickaninnies regardless of snow and Winter, are leaving for the there. Nothing new has been exhibited individual in the street will a piece of quartz in his hand, quite rich in gold that he has claimed to be from Rose Bar upon which Old Comstock and Other Lodges have claims located by friends and, of course their fortunes are thenceforth made.

AMUSEMENTS—THEATRE AND THE M.

Speaking of Comstock and Bar reminds me that they have been building themselves in law at their mutual expense. It seems that Robbins came in the full to the Comstock faith having heard that the great original was taking it out big, and receiving word from him that he should have half of all he had if he would come over and Mr. Comstock—Pauper river Indian—and help him. Comstock by the by is quite an Indian man being unable to read or write and Mr. Robbins services as factotum were very acceptable, especially as Comstock had by reckless transactions, to which he is given not lost himself almost entirely and very much his equity in the settlement of accounts has produced a coolness and the late friends have been indulging the assistance in a series of law suits, much to the amusement of the town and to the benefit of the Sheriff's who have had attachments on property on which to make their fees quite considerable. Law is still a favorite pursuit, and since the Recorder's Court is in operation we have a great variety. This morning we had a view of a curious scene across the gulch about a quarter of a mile. An old shoemaker and his son were chopping down a tree the owner of which was disputed by an old Irishman and his wife. In the course of the controversy I saw the Celtic dame throw down a wheelbarrow she treated the old Israelite to a spring of shillalah.

SILVER DISCOVERIES—A REPRESENTATIVE MAN.

While everybody is rushing to Boise I must insinuate that the prospect of a second Washoe not forty miles from Auburn is very probable. Two parties of our friends have lately returned with specimens of ore from leads they had discovered in the region between Malheur and Burnt rivers. Here I saw to day compares favorably with ore from Washoe and the great original Comstock, when I showed him a piece declared that I couldn't fool him, that ore came from the Comstock lead, and the dear man went away with that belief. There is no mistake about this being silver ore, and the capitalists below may as well include silver mining in their calculations for investment for when we get our claims secured, we calculate to need their help. In all seriousness there is to all appearance a prospect for silver mining that may be more or less rich and that possibly can do more for the future greatness of this region than the gold fields. There certainly is nothing impossible nor improbable in the idea that silver mines exist here as they do in the whole region to the South of us. This country has never yet been prospected thoroughly even for gold and its greatest wealth may yet be hidden. Over in that same Burnt river region there is a miner named Macray, who has acknowledged to a friend of mine that he has been a pretty hard case, rather regardless of the rights of property, but that he intends to be a good citizen if left alone. Your penitentiary has missed him several times, and very likely would again if he were there for. Enoch" has a knack of getting out as well as of deserving to get in. I expect there is little danger of his being sent in here, and we will watch and let you know if he beats better Fruit" than of old.

We have a county jail now in process of completion, that is unless the contractors have quit the job which when finished will be used occasionally.

I see you are arguing the question of stamps below. Pray what do you think we will do up in the mountains when January comes, and all business will be stopped for want of stamps? that too, when it is becoming fashionable to commence lawsuits, and also to indulge in the luxury of I. O. U's, both of them expensive luxuries, but found in all civilized lands.

WASTED.—Some weeks since it was announced that a contract had been let to L. A. Mullan to carry the U. S. Mails over several mail routes, for the sum of $74,000 a year.—Straightway there was a great outburst of indignation about the price to be paid. The up country papers contained communications denouncing the whole affair as a swindle.—References were made to the distressed condition of the country and one writer in the Age thought $2,000 was enough for the whole service. That paper said $74,000 was not too much. The Times lately had a letter from up the Columbia commenting in the virtuous indignant style on this new case of plundering the Treasury. We were getting indignant ourselves and were just fixing to send to a crusher on Unparalleled Rascality in Mail Contracts" when we came across the following in the Washington Statesman of the 20th of December:

We learn by a private telegraphic dispatch that the mails for the new routes in the upper country have been awarded to Louis A. Mullan, at the following figures.—From Walla Walla to Colville, via Antelope Plains weekly, $6,000. From Walla Walla to Hellgate semi monthly, $6,000. From Walla Walla to Orofino, weekly $3,000. From Lewiston to Florence, weekly $3,000. From Lewiston to Elk City weekly $3,000. All going into effect on the first of next month.

We subsided instantly when we saw that the total was only $25,000.

SUNDRY PERSONS' SANITARY FUND.—Expenses [illegible] $15,69

From Jefferson Mart property $41 as follows: Jacob Cramer $10 Mrs Lucy Ayres [illegible] Dr J E R & T H Tenney 5 each Mrs L J Ransdell Miss E Rice Ashley Wilson Jacob Bates J Jno W [illegible] Michael Hannon 50 cents

From Oregon City collection at grocery at Christmas Tree, &c $151. Total $196 50. A HOLBROOK.

Late Eastern News

The following is the latest telegraphic news to the [illegible] and from Sacramento [illegible] is all which is new here.

News of December 18th.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF POTOMAC, December 18th.—Burial parties yesterday crossed the river under a flag of truce for the purpose of burying our dead. Colonel Walton Chief Engineer Artillery, informs some of the [illegible] that the rebel infantry force that on Saturday was only [illegible] but that they had a large army [illegible].

He gave our men credit for great bravery but insists the rebel position impregnable and that a force of half a million would find it impossible to carry the heights in the face of their batteries.

The rebel loss was of course small compared with ours. The enemy took eight hundred prisoners a considerable portion of whom were sent from their camps when we crossed the river. The artillery on both sides have been paroled.

News of December 19th.

LOUISVILLE, December 19th.—From Cumberland Gap [illegible] from Kingston [illegible] hundred prisoners and eleven pieces of artillery.

NEW YORK, December 19th.—Dispatches from the Army of the Potomac say that six hundred of our dead were buried on Wednesday and four hundred of them to lay. Nearly all of them were found stripped of clothing and lying naked on the ground. From the official report it is thought the proportion of killed to wounded in the late battle is smaller than any battle fought during the war. The official report of the losses in Reynolds's corps foot twenty-eight hundred and thirty.

HEADQUARTERS, ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, December 19th.—All quiet to-day. The enemy strongly picket the river along our front.

The official report of the loss in the late battle make the number less than reported being about fourteen hundred killed and eight thousand wounded. A large proportion of the wounded are only slightly hurt.

WASHINGTON, December 19th.—A Committee presenting the Border State Congressional delegation consisting of Hall, Crittenden and Crisfield called on the President yesterday to urge him not to issue the proclamation. The President gave no definite answer. Some of the Border State delegation—Maynard among them—refused to sanction this proceeding.

FORTRESS MONROE, December 17th.—There is no truth whatever in the reports that General Banks is co-operating with the troops at Suffolk. Nothing reliable has yet been heard of the destination of his expedition.

NEW YORK, December 19th.—A Nashville telegram dated December 18th says General Dodge with his cavalry has been fighting Forrest all day on the vicinity of Corinth.—Forrest has 4,000 men. Dodge 2,500, with five pieces of artillery. Morgan is reported to be moving to cut the Louisville and Nashville railroad. It is also reported that Van Dorn with fifty thousand men is at Stevenson Alabama to join Bragg. The whole rebel force in Tennessee is estimated at seventy thousand. They had twenty five thousand at Murfreesboro yesterday with outposts within eleven miles of Nashville. Rosecrans has dismissed a large number of officers for drunkenness.

CAIRO, December 19th.—There is nothing of importance from General Grant's army.—It is stated that the rebel fortifications at Vicksburg have been greatly strengthened and families are packing up and ready to evacuate in anticipation of an assault from the Federals.

CINCINNATI, December 19th.—From late Southern papers we clip the following items.

The rebel Court at Knoxville have decided upon the sequestration of the property of Andrew Johnson and Horace Maynard.

General Buckner has gone to Mobile to assume command of the defense of that city.

Herschel V. Johnson of Georgia, just elected to the Confederate Senate, denounces the Conscription Law as unconstitutional. He would however, acquiesce, but says that Georgia will record her firm protest against it.

The Richmond dispatches in reference to the battle at Fredericksburg state the rebel loss at five hundred killed and twenty five hundred wounded.

Congressional News.

WASHINGTON, Dec 18.—In the Senate, Rice of Minnesota introduced a bill to extend the Walla Walla and Fort Benton road to Fort Abercrombie.

Nesmith of Oregon, introduced a bill for the protection of overland emigrants to the Pacific.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The army appropriation bill was taken up in Committee of the Whole in the House yesterday.

An amendment, offered by Mallory of Kentucky, that none of the appropriation should be used for the benefit of runaway slaves or for the emancipation or colonization of them was disagreed to. The bill was then reported to the House and passed—107 to 31.

In the Senate, Latham, of California offered a resolution requesting the Secretary of State to transmit to the Senate the correspondence which has been had between his Department and our Minister to England about telegraphic communication between the mouth of the Amoor and San Francisco. Adopted.

Henderson, of Missouri, introduced a bill granting pecuniary aid to Missouri to emancipate her slaves. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

In the House, on motion of Sargent of California, a resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on Ways and Means to inquire into the expediency of providing by law for an Assistant Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the Pacific States and Territories, who shall have general control of matters on that subject under the direction of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington.

Foreign News.

The newspapers advance nothing new on American affairs.

The Paris Moniteur in a quasi official form alludes to the presence of a French squadron at New Orleans, which is represented to have that the dissatisfied portion of the population.

The London Globe thinks the situation in America promises striking results soon.

The Times thinks the Democratic successes have rendered the Government desperate instead of changing it and it looks upon the advices as the worst yet, and as indicating that the propagation of servile war is about to commence.

Gladstone in a published letter denies that he has expressed any sympathy with the Southern cause. In declining it out of his province to praise or blame on such a complicated question. He claims to be much better friend to the North than those who encourage them in the prosecution of their hopeless and destructive enterprise.

Interesting and very encouraging statements have been submitted to the Atlantic Telegraph Company by Captain Hankyn, in regard to soundings.

The French Government had concluded a contract for the supply of the army in Mexico for two years, provided the occupation is continued.

The cotton famine and distress in France are increasing in severity.

The Greek question remains unchanged.

By Overland Telegraph.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LATER FROM THE EAST.

ST. LOUIS, Dec 19th.—We have a report that Gen. Hindman has crossed the river with dispatches to Marmaduke, while the cavalry remain on the north side. Hunter's from the rebel army are already joining Herron many of them Missourians, who express the great disgust at the rebel campaign, and think its further prosecution hopeless.

Gen. Curtis, yesterday received a communication from the rebel Gen. Holmes forwarded by direction of Jeff. Davis inquiring into the facts relative to the shooting of ten Confederate citizens by order of Gen. O'Neil.—Gen. Curtis' reply will probably be published and it is looked for with much interest.

NEW YORK, Dec 20th.—Last evening a Washington Star states that a caucus of Republican Senators was held on the 16th inst. when resolutions were offered and discussed, requesting Secretary Seward to resign. The vote was—ayes, 10; noes, 13. The next day another caucus adopted a substitute, recommending the President partially to remodel his Cabinet, which was unanimously adopted as the conservatives believed it would be regarded as a general invitation to the whole Cabinet to resign. On being informed of the act the Secretary and Assistant Secretary of State sent in their resignations requesting their immediate acceptance.

The same paper also says it is confidently reported that Gen. Burnside has tendered his resignation of the command of the army.

The Post's Washington correspondent says it was rumored this afternoon that the entire Cabinet will retire leaving the President free to construct a new Cabinet. This may be incorrect but it is not at all improbable that Blair and Bates have already tendered their resignations. I am informed this afternoon that Chas. A. Sumner has been tendered the port folio of Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, Dec 20.—The navy department has information of the capture of the schooner George, from Nassau with a mixed assorted cargo of coffee and salt.

KANSAS CITY, Dec 20th.—Advices from Santa Fe state that Gen. Carleton has issued an order requiring all persons arriving there to report to the Provost Marshal. Strangers are all to exhibit a written authority under which they can travel, and give satisfactory evidence of their loyalty. It is rumored that a body of Texans, 6,000 strong, are marching on Santa Fe via Las Vegas and Jazel Pass under Gen. Baylor. The rumor needs confirmation.

The Daily Oregonian.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City

THE REAL ESTATE SALE.—The bidding at the sale of lots belonging to the estate of Finis Caruthers was very spirited. Price cumbelle... sold at a step. Two persons only bought more than one block they bought two apiece. The prices obtained were as follows: block 21 $360; block 22 $360; block ... $1...; block 24 $360; block 25 $300; block 26 $480; block 27 $420; block 28 $... 30; block 29 $630; block 30 $620; block 1 $480; block 32 $480; block 33 $420; block 4 $47... three quarters of block 3... $330; half block 6 $360; block 37 $61... block 8 $510. Block 17 on which is a dwelling house and valuable improvements was reserved from sale and will be offered next Saturday at auction. The purchasers were all pleased, and many who could not think of going another hundred to get a block of ground, will yet have to pay still higher or go without the land. We look upon these auction sales of real estate as having the value of land in that neighborhood and as being an index to the growing value of the city lands in general. The sale of two lots belonging to the estate of D. H. Lownsdale was not attended by any noticeable features. The lot No. 1 in block 108 brought $134 and lot 2 on the same block brought $84. The property was not well located for improvement, being in the ravine below the penitentiary.

FAVOR.—We are under obligation to Charles Barrett for late files of Atlantic papers and pictorials.

THE Steamer Reliance will leave Canemah for Corvallis Tuesday December 30th at 11 A. M.

GOLD AND SILVER MINES.—We are indebted to Chas. Porter & Co., 237 Commercial street San Francisco for a circular containing a list of all the incorporated mining companies in California, Nevada, Lower California and Sonora. There are two hundred and one companies contained in the list, representing more millions of nominal capital than there are of real value on the coast. Information in regard to the organization of mining companies in our Northern mines is solicited. It is necessary to mention the locality, the name of the Secretary, location of the office of the company, amount of the capital stock, par value of shares, and date of incorporation or organization.

CAMPBELL'S SHOOTING GALLERY.—Where all can be accommodated, from an Armstrong down to a pop gun. Gentlemen wishing to try the accurateness of their pistols, rifles, shot-guns, derringers, or five shooters, can find a favorable opportunity at any time by calling at the above mentioned place where batteries and all other necessary arrangements are now complete for the accommodation of those fond of the sport and who desire to practice the use of fire-arms. Fine sport for gentlemen.—come up and try it. Second story of Burrell's Brick, Front street, near corner of Morrison.

Consumption Curable.—DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM is better entitled to the confidence of Consumptives than any remedy known. Its peculiar action on the system excites the surprise and admiration of those who have tried various medicines without benefit. It is well worth a fair trial.

HERRINGTON & CO.,
General Agents for the Pacific Coast.
418 and 420 Front street, San Francisco.

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are causes of PULMONARY BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies of an act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches" or Lozenges, for the Cold Cough or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. Sold at ... nt. dec16daw3m

White's Fever and Ague Drops.—For the cure of AGUE, PANAMA FEVER, NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY.

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success. Indeed in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure, in Ague especially one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases, and in none are more than two bottles required.

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements, but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone. A cure is guaranteed in nine cases out of ten.

Prepared only by ROBERT WHITE, Chemist and Druggist, Main street, Placerville, and Broadway, Upper Placerville. For sale by all respectable Druggists throughout the State.

Wholesale Agents: EDWARD HALL & CO., Wholesale Druggists, 535 Washington street, San Francisco, to whom all orders should be addressed. oct18 48w3m

White's Patent Lever Trusses.—These instruments are recommended to the public as the best ever yet invented. The principle is new and different from any other. The Pad works over a Knuckle, giving it a circular INWARD and UPWARD motion, thus being able to support the rupture with half the pressure required by other Trusses. The pain consequent upon heavy pressure is thereby avoided.

These instruments will not rust, and are the lightest, most durable and most cleanly of all others. They can be washed at pleasure. Many persons have been cured by them of ruptures of several years standing.

The Rank and File.

All praise to the brilliant generals
Who flash on to the sight
And lead to where the fight is hot,
And the deadly strife is won

All praise to the coming Lieutenants
Yet forget not, all the while,
The glory in the main belongs
To the patriot rank and file

All hail the gallant Captains
Be wounded in the face,
Yet give I love to them alone
The theme of the day

For I feel that many a tear will start
At sight of the crape in mid black
In the village far away and near
Not named in the despatch

The widow's widowed heart will break
Will wail, and watch in vain,
For the old man and the fatherless,
And the hand which screened them

That many a simple household dress
Adorn will be sadly lost
And the sight of wonted dear faces
Be worn in their place, ceased

Thus I know that not in vain
The burden of years is felt
But wherever in place or lonely,
A brave, but friend hath died

Then praise to the brilliant epaulette,
Which flashes in the sun,
And leads to where the fight is hot,
And the deadly strife is won.

But here's to the humble, the while,
And the arm which unflinching sung
Three cheers for the glorious "rank and file"
And their loyalty so strong.

Particulars of the Battle of Fredericksburg.

Franklin on the left moved his column at sunrise, his right resting on the outskirts of the city, his center advanced a mile or so from the river, and his left resting on the Rappahannock, three miles below. Skirmishing commenced a few minutes after daylight, on the extreme left. A rebel battery opened on our troops, and the fire became so annoying that the Ninth New York Militia was ordered to charge and take it at the point of the bayonet. The order was obeyed with alacrity, but after a fierce struggle the charging party was compelled to fall back. At this critical moment Gen. Tyler perceiving the disorder into which the Ninth were thrown, came to their aid with his brigade. The Ninth quickly rallied, and assisted by Tyler's brigade, another attempt was made to storm the rebel batteries, but without success. The fight now became general on the extreme left and another desperate effort was made to capture the rebel battery by Tyler's brigade, but the fire of the rebels was so withering in its effect that our brave fellows were unable to gain any advantage. Each charge thinned their ranks at a fearful rate, and the chances of capturing that much coveted battery appeared no better than at first. By noon the whole of Franklin's corps was engaged with the enemy, and a desperate effort was made to turn the enemy's position on the Massaponax and drive him beyond. Gen. Franklin commanded the movement in person. The rebels maintained possession of some small hills with their usual stubbornness, but gradually fell back, as the Union troops evinced a determination to go forward. During the afternoon the rebels came to a stand, and for a time assumed the offensive, but as they advanced on us they were bravely met and repulsed with heavy loss. At this time some 300 of Hill's command fell into our hands and were conducted to the rear as prisoners. Still the enemy contested every part of the ground, and it was only by dint of the hardest kind of fighting that he could be compelled to change his position.

Reynolds' corps advanced ere the dense fog had lifted itself from the river banks, and about nine o'clock the enemy's infantry were engaged. The opposing columns had fairly got to work, when the rebel artillery commenced playing upon us through the fog. The shots, aimed at random, however, produced little effect. Notwithstanding the view was so obscured, the rebel artillerists kept up a cannonade of several hours, and as peal after peal resounded through the air, the effect was terribly sublime. The fire was returned by our batteries in gallant style. For hours nothing but the deafening roar of artillery could be heard on all sides. Up to noon, when the fog cleared off and the balloonists were enabled to get a glance at the enemy's works, the fight was an artillery one, and produced no very important results on either side. As soon as the sunshine showed itself, however, the infantry were brought into play and the work commenced in real earnest. Generals Meade's and Gibbons' divisions encountered the right of Gen. A. P. Hill's command and Longstreet's veterans. The fight raged furiously during the entire day. Our troops suffered terribly from the enemy's artillery. The enemy were posted behind hills of great strength. At one time it seemed impossible to dislodge them. About noon Gen. Gibbons was relieved by Gen. Doubleday's command, and Gen. Meade, who was fighting against superior odds, was also reinforced by General Stoneman's command, which had the effect of checking the rebels, and driving them back a short distance. It was in the midst of this struggle Gen. Gibbons was wounded and partially disabled. He kept the field, however, during the remainder of the day. During the afternoon Newton's Division was moved up to the left of the center, when the firing, which had ceased in that part of the field, broke out again with redoubled fury. Our troops were here exposed to a plunging fire from the enemy's artillery, which was posted on the neighboring hills. Our artillery returned the fire with accuracy of aim and unwavering courage.

Sumner, commanding the second corps, commenced the action on the right at ten o'clock, and it raged furiously all day. The enemy occupied the woods and hills in the rear of the city, and in point of advantage the odds were decidedly in their favor. The courage of the Union troops was unbounded, however. Every inch of ground was nobly contested. It soon became evident that the first ridge of hills, on which the enemy were posted behind earth-works, could not be carried except at the point of the bayonet. Accordingly Sumner ordered French's division to charge upon the batteries. General Howard's division acted as support, and the troops sprang forward to obey the order with enthusiasm. By this time, the atmosphere was clear, except from the smoke of the artillery, and a good view could be had of the rebel's position and the country adjoining. Steadily they marched across the plain and never faltered until they were within a dozen yards of the ridge, when suddenly they were met by a galling fire from the rebel infantry posted behind a stone wall. For a few moments the head of the column exhibited some confusion, but quickly forming into line, retired back to the ravine within musket shot of the enemy. Here the Union troops were reinforced by a fresh body of infantry, who advanced to the assistance of their comrades in splendid style, notwithstanding large gaps were made in their ranks at every step. Reinforcements having arrived and the line of assault being again formed, the order for the double quick, with fixed bayonets, was given, and once more the column advanced to dislodge the rebel artillery. From the moment the storming party left the ravine up to the time they reached the foot of the hills, they were exposed to the hottest of the enemy's concentrated fire which Lee's artillery and infantry rained upon their devoted heads in a manner truly terrific. No troops, however disciplined or brave, could withstand the shock, and after suffering for-

PAIN PANACEA.
Is composed entirely of healing gums, and essential oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. From most extensive use that I have ever known any liniment to be used by it in the most severe cases, I will undertake to ask the afflicted who have not used it, to call at the following named places. If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, then no pay will be asked. Only give it a trial and try the agent who keeps it nearest to you.

If you have pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Chest or Side, Pain Panacea is the remedy. In the cure of Cholera Morbus it affected, only a few drops of the Panacea is required to relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal it in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Sick Headache, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a few drops of it internally, in water, every hour or two, until relieved. It will not only relieve the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food lies heavy on your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea and it will relieve you of your meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and the relief will be immediate. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe toothache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time, it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Hips, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected freely and rub well, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother finds a child frequently applying the Panacea as fast as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly, or notice that you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea—it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.
